

TRUSTED ADVISOR FORUMS

What is a Trusted Advisor Forum?

The CBMC Trusted Advisor Forum is a peer advisory group for senior business leaders who desire to lead their business according to Biblical principles and become part of a community with other like-minded leaders in their geographic area. These groups provide a confidential peer-to-peer environment where faith and leadership intersect.

Who is a Trusted Advisor Forum for?

- Are you a senior business leader (i.e., Chief Executive, COO, President, or Business Owner)?
- Do you tend to lead your company alone and feel in isolation?
- Would you like a confidential place to share your business, personal and spiritual challenges, and successes with other like-minded business leaders?
- Would a group of carefully selected peers committed to journey with you for the long run as you lead your business, family and serve your community be of value?
- Are you lacking strategies to handle tough issues with employees, customers, vendors, and competitors that incorporate best-in-business principles integrated with a Christian work view?

If the answer is yes to many of these questions, you are likely a good fit.

Details and Requirements
